FAMILY

Related by Chance, Family by Choice

Your son or daughter has decided on (or already taken) a mate. Or perhaps, you are a soon-to-be-bride. How do you build the bridge to close the in-law gap that is so prevalent in our society? Bible-based exploration of God's expectations and guidance designed to honor Him and support positive family relationships. Based on Deb's debut book.

Some Assembly Required: Building Relationships with Your Adult Children

What are the new relationship rules for your kids once they are grown? How do you step back? When do you start? Understand the importance and value of letting them make their own way and identify when your involvement might still be appropriate.

Mommy, Why Don't We See Grandma?

When the relationship between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law is tense or antagonistic, the grandchildren get caught in the crosshairs. It's possible to create peace in the family if we are willing to rely on God's Word as the blueprint for this relationship. Great for MOPS or other similar organizations.

MARRIAGE

We're Still Havin' Fun – and You're Still the One!

How do you keep the fun and the life in your marriage year after year in the face of life's challenges? Romance can suffer and marriages may falter as together we raise kids, help aging parents, and deal with financial concerns, to name a few. Deb explores Bible-based tips and tactics to help protect your union.

Don't Go to Bed Angry—Stay Up and Fight!

How do you deal with marital conflict in a way that honors Christ and the marriage vows? This presentation will explore the importance of healthy conflict. We will examine tools to express true feelings in a way that aligns with scripture and allows the couple to develop a relationship of genuine understanding and intimacy.

BABY BOOMERAMA!

We May Be Done, But We're Not Finished: Tales From the North Side of 50

God has designed us for His purpose and there is so much left for us to accomplish! Now is not the time to settle in for the winter of our lives. We're young enough to get it done and old enough—and wise enough—to do it well. A motivating and humorous exploration of the possibilities.

FRIENDSHIP

I Knew We Were From the Same Easter Basket! (Cause You're a Good Egg, Too)

The gift of Christian friendship between women can be a God-given treasure. How do we initiate the relationship when we connect with someone? What are some ways to keep it positive and Christ-honoring?

HOLIDAY PROGRAM

It's a Charlie Brown Christmas

The much loved Charlie Brown and his Peanuts gang has a wonderful message of the good news of Jesus' birth. Drawing from both the history of the series and the characters themselves, the joy of the season and the true meaning of Christmas will delight audiences of all ages.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Living Out Loud

Growing up in our faith means showing up knowing that we might be the only Christ follower others encounter on any given day. Whether at work, school or in our community, we have the opportunity to live our faith out loud—pointing a lost and thirsty world to Jesus. The new model for evangelism!

You Are Not Alone

This program for widows is designed to help encourage and uplift, with a message reminding them they are not alone. Using both nostalgia and humor, Deb motivates widows to stay active, focusing on the concept that if you're still here, your mission is not yet complete!

BUSINESS/WORKING WORLD

Speak Up, Move Up! Achieving the Career You Deserve

Some women wait to be noticed at work, trusting that our good performance will be sufficient to capture the career opportunities we desire. While delivering results is key to landing prime projects and promotion possibilities, watching and waiting in silence may not be the best path to achieving the career you deserve. Learn how to stimulate new opportunities without becoming a self-promoter.
